

jLAN Technologies Announces the availability of jLAN Mobile for Microsoft Dynamics AX

Hollywood, Florida March 30, 2009. jLAN Technologies, a leading Microsoft Gold

Certified partner in mobility solutions, announced this month full availability of the jLAN

Mobile suite for Microsoft Dynamics AX 2009. jLAN Mobile, which includes jLAN Mobile

Sales, Routes, Survey's and the jLAN Mobile server, now includes a robust and complete out of the box integration for Microsoft Dynamics AX. The result is a much lower cost mobile sales system which will dramatically increase the ROI for customers.

“This is another major milestone for jLAN Technologies, which continues to stay at the forefront of delivering fully integrated mobile sales and route sales software.” said Andy Link President, jLAN Technologies, Inc. “The market is filled with examples of mobile system implementations that have failed due to the cost and complexity of integrating mobile devices with back office systems. Our goal is to offer organizations that have standardized on Microsoft Dynamics AX a fully integrated, top tier mobile sales system without burdening them with open ended integration cost estimates.”

jLAN Mobile is used by companies in nine countries to connect mobile sales and route sales workers to back office ERP systems. jLAN's flagship product, jLAN Mobile Suite, runs on Windows Mobile devices and is designed for the sales and delivery workforce in variety of industries including food and beverage distribution, consumer packaged goods, industrial parts distribution and direct store delivery operations.

Designed for midsize and larger companies, Microsoft Dynamics AX is a multilanguage, multicurrency enterprise resource planning (ERP) solution with core strengths in manufacturing, distribution e-business and strong supporting functionality for wholesale and services industries.
